ONE DOLLAR FOR THE APPEAL.

Persons leaving the city for the country can have the DAILY APPEAL sent to them for one month, on sending to or leaving their name and address and One Dollar at our counting-room or for any time longer than that at the same rates.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

The city council meets this afternoon. There was another refreshing shower yesterday afternoon. Can the Nashville papers tell us what the matter with Hanner? Some people anticipate an overflow during the present rise. The fear is groundless. I. C. Starnely, who was sent to the lunatic asylum near Nashville last Friday, died in that institution Monday. Nothing more has been heard from Attorney-General Wright, Sheriff Anderson and Waddy Thompson, who have been before our criminal court yesterday. During the thunderstorm Monday afternoon, lightning struck a tree and Charles T. Patterson's residence, No. 415 Vance street. The roof of the building was slightly damaged.

Yesterday the case of Policeman Carmichael, who killed P. Madigan, was heard by Justice Miller. The accused was admitted to bail in the sum of two thousand dollars to await the action of the grand jury. The police commissioners at their meeting yesterday removed Policeman C. W. All for neglect of duty, and substituted J. W. Cheek. Policeman All has been an officer for a long while, and was one of the most efficient of the force. His neglect of duty consisted in leaving his beat without the consent of his officers. D. C. Fakes, the forger, who is wanted in this city, New Orleans, Corinth, and perhaps at many other places, was classed as the worst in the business, was arrested in New Orleans Monday through the instrumentality of our indefatigable Chief Athy, who has been pursuing him with bulldog tenacity the past three months.

The supreme court in session at Knoxville has delivered a decision relative to the administration of estates, in which it holds that the administrator must have real estate sold to discharge other debts without any suggestion of insolvency. That the proceeds of the sale are in the custody of the court, and the administrator is not entitled, nor is it the proper practice to allow him, upon giving a bond, to disburse the funds arising from the sale of real estate, but must be returned and disbursed in the court where the bill is filed, and the claims of all creditors must be filed and adjudicated.

Yesterday the foundation work was begun for the Memphis Bethel building, at the corner of Charleston and Adams streets. The two first bricks were laid by Misses Lizzie Bell Speers and Clara Randall, in the morning, the latter daughter of M. P. Jarnigan, Esq., impressed her foot. The bricklayers, after a hearty applause, then commenced work on the foundation of the building, which is to be finished by Christmas, the estimated cost being nine or ten thousand dollars. It is a fine building, and the foundation workmen unearthed a number of old tin-vats and two large mill-stones, the latter worth about two hundred dollars. We are glad to know that the Bethel is in a condition to erect the building, which will be quite handsome in its design and commodious in character. It will be of two stories with a public hall in the upper portion.

We herewith present a communication from John B. Clough, signing himself assistant United States attorney, and Mr. W. Henry Taylor, superintendent of the Mississippi River national cemetery, relative to the disposition of an indictment against the latter by the criminal court of Shelby county, Tennessee. Comment is unnecessary, as the communications explain themselves, and it is, with pleasure, that we publish them, as they vindicate the character of Mr. Taylor, and place him in a true light before the public.

MEMPHIS, July 12, 1875. Editors APPEAL—I enclose herewith a copy of a letter from my attorney, in the case of State of Tennessee vs. H. Taylor. You will please publish it as early as possible. I ask this in justice to myself, as you gave my name to the public in connection with the riot of May 30, 1874 (decoration day at this cemetery), and commented very severely on my supposed conduct during the day. You are at liberty to comment as you see fit upon it, as I think you will do me justice. Yours, very respectfully, W. HENRY TAYLOR.

MEMPHIS, July 10, 1875. Captain W. Henry Taylor, National Cemetery, Shelby county, Tennessee. Dear Sir—The indictment lately pending against you in the criminal court of Shelby county, Tennessee, on behalf of the State, has been returned, and you are at liberty to comment as you see fit upon it, as I think you will do me justice. Yours, very respectfully, JOHN B. CLOUGH, Assistant United States Attorney.

TENNESSEE NEWS. Knoxville had twenty-four deaths last month. A Knoxville fire-company wants to disband because of internal strife. Brownlow's Knoxville Chronicle: Every newspaper in the State, with the exception of a few that favor repudiation, deplores the failure to meet the July 1st debt on State bonds. Brownlow's Knoxville Chronicle: The Shelbyville Commercial (straight Democrat) condemns the supreme court and the State government, and openly advocates mob law. Shelbyville Commercial: Mr. J. A. Gannaway, of Unionville, informs us that on last Saturday S. N. Dugan, son of Dr. Dugan, of that place, attempted to commit suicide by taking arsenic. He was discovered by his family, however, and in time to save him from a terrible death. It is the first case of the kind that has been reported in this section.

Brownlow's Knoxville Chronicle, in commenting upon the failure of the State to pay its July 1st debt, says that it is one that so vitally affects the credit of our commonwealth that it should be placed in higher ground. It is a question of State pride, in which no one is interested, whether Republicans or Democrats, and all good men will rejoice to see the problem solved without regard to the political effect of such solution. Shelbyville Commercial: W. C. Little, of the firm of W. & W. C. Little, of Dr. Dugan's place, attempted to commit suicide by taking arsenic. He was discovered by his family, however, and in time to save him from a terrible death. It is the first case of the kind that has been reported in this section.

ANOTHER CHURCH SCANDAL.

An Old and Distinguished Methodist Minister, of Nashville, Charged with Grave Indiscretions. Full Details of the scandal—Indirect Confession of Guilt Before the Church Commission. He is Adjudged Guilty of the Charges, and Suspended from the Church. Union and American, Sunday. Within the past few days sweeping circulation has been gained by a report affecting the moral character of one of our leading and most influential preachers in the State, and one of the ablest, intellectually, in the Methodist Episcopal church, south, to wit, Rev. J. H. Hanner, a prominent elder of one of the Middle Tennessee districts. It originated from a letter placed in the hands of the authorities of the church in this city, addressed to a certain young lady in Rutherford county, and intercepted in its transmission. The existence of the letter and gossip about its contents are now on the lips of thousands of people, even having been published in papers outside the State—said publications do little to the credit of the church, and the young lady, serious in her views, is being unfairly treated by the affair. It was a part of the original rumor that the young lady was to take place immediately, and we were urgently requested by leading members of that church to wait the result before making a publication of the same. Our consideration for the great denomination directly concerned, we yielded to the request, and we have since been waiting for the result. Friday having been fixed as the time and Murfreesboro, at the residence of Rev. Wm. Hughes, of Lebanon; Rev. J. B. Barbee, of Murfreesboro; Rev. L. C. Bryant, of Mill Creek church, and Rev. J. H. Hanner, of Nashville, arrived and began their session, with closed doors, in the Methodist church, at that place, in session until three o'clock, and examined Miss Naylor, Henry Naylor, John J. Seely, and the wife of Dr. Hanner, and Rev. Sumner McFerrin, pastor at Postville and Bell Buckle. Miss Naylor was the young lady whose reputation was so severely injured by the charges. The witnesses resulted in her complete vindication, she proving an excellent character. Dr. Hanner, who was present, admitted that while she was in every respect the truth. Bishop McTear delivered the opinion of the committee, and in doing so, said that many of the ministers shed tears freely. The committee, a little after three o'clock, took a recess until four o'clock, and the young lady, who had been waiting for the result, left for her home on the accommodation train that passed Murfreesboro at five o'clock. The existence of the letter and gossip about its contents are now on the lips of thousands of people, even having been published in papers outside the State—said publications do little to the credit of the church, and the young lady, serious in her views, is being unfairly treated by the affair. It was a part of the original rumor that the young lady was to take place immediately, and we were urgently requested by leading members of that church to wait the result before making a publication of the same. Our consideration for the great denomination directly concerned, we yielded to the request, and we have since been waiting for the result. Friday having been fixed as the time and Murfreesboro, at the residence of Rev. Wm. Hughes, of Lebanon; Rev. J. B. Barbee, of Murfreesboro; Rev. L. C. Bryant, of Mill Creek church, and Rev. J. H. Hanner, of Nashville, arrived and began their session, with closed doors, in the Methodist church, at that place, in session until three o'clock, and examined Miss Naylor, Henry Naylor, John J. Seely, and the wife of Dr. Hanner, and Rev. Sumner McFerrin, pastor at Postville and Bell Buckle. Miss Naylor was the young lady whose reputation was so severely injured by the charges. The witnesses resulted in her complete vindication, she proving an excellent character. Dr. Hanner, who was present, admitted that while she was in every respect the truth. Bishop McTear delivered the opinion of the committee, and in doing so, said that many of the ministers shed tears freely
